STEVE FORBES

WHAT NOW FOR THE ECONOMY AND STOCK MARKET?

Steve Forbes is President and Chief Executive Officer of Forbes and Editor-in-Chief of Forbes magazine. He resumed this role in February 2000, after a leave of absence to campaign for the Republican nomination for the Presidency.

Mr. Forbes assumed his position in 1990.

Since that time, Forbes has expanded, launching a variety of new publications and businesses. They include: Forbes FYI, the irreverent lifestyle supplement; Forbes ASAP, the technology supplement for management decision-makers; Forbes Global, the magazine's international publication, introduced in 1998; a Japanese language edition of Forbes; Forbes Brasil, a Portuguese-language edition serving Latin America's largest economy; and the Gilder Technology Report.

In 1997, Forbes entered the new media arena with the launch of Forbes.com. Now receiving an average of four million visits a month, it has become a leading destination site for business decision-makers and investors.

Other company divisions include: Forbes Management Conference Group and Forbes Custom Communications Partners.

Mr. Forbes is also Chairman of the company's American Heritage division, and publisher of American Heritage magazine and two quarterlies, American Legacy and American Heritage of Invention & Technology.

The company's flagship publication, Forbes, is the nation's leading business magazine, with a circulation of 900,000. Forbes and Forbes Global together reach a worldwide audience of nearly five million readers.

Mr. Forbes writes editorials for each issue of Forbes, under the heading of "Fact and Comment." A widely respected economic prognosticator, he is the only writer to have won the highly prestigious Crystal Owl Award four times. The prize was formerly given by USX Corporation to the financial journalist whose economic forecasts for the coming year proved most accurate.

Mr. Forbes is the author of A New Birth of Freedom (Regnery, 1999), a book of bold ideas for the new millennium.

In 1985, President Reagan named Mr. Forbes Chairman of the bipartisan Board for International Broadcasting (BIB). In this position, he oversaw the operation of Radio Free Europe and Radio Liberty. Broadcasting behind the Iron Curtain, Radio Free Europe and Radio Liberty were praised by Poland's Lech Walesa as being critical to the struggle against communism.

Mr. Forbes was reappointed to his post by President Bush and served until 1993.

Steve Forbes was born in Morristown, New Jersey. He graduated cum laude in 1966 from Brooks School in North Andover, Massachusetts. He received a B.A. in history from Princeton in 1970. At Princeton, he was the founding editor of Business Today, which became the country's largest magazine published by students for students, with a circulation of 200,000. The magazine continues to be published today by Princeton undergraduates.

Mr. Forbes serves on the Board of Trustees of Princeton University, as well as on other boards, including The Ronald Reagan Presidential Foundation and the National Taxpayers Union.

Report on the Eastern Large Rotary Club Conference in Madison, Wisconsin

Last week, Andreas and I attended the 3-day Eastern Large Rotary Club Conference in Madison, Wisconsin. There were 23 Presidents-elect and 24 Executive Directors, all the way from Fort Myers, Florida, to Toronto, Canada.

It was definitely a worthwhile trip for this Club. The seminar was very well organized, conducted by a moderator, and covered such topics as the leadership role of the President, the role of the Club executive, dues & luncheon cost, liability insurance, board meetings, Club websites, and other communication vehicles, club service projects, fundraising, club assemblies, membership development, etc.

The seminars ran from 7:45 a.m. to 4 p.m. and included round-table discussions where many timely and valuable ideas were shared.

We have much to learn from many of these other clubs and we will continue to share experiences with the network we formed.

I had the opportunity, as well, to spend some time with Frank Devlyn, our international President, and we shared our philosophies for the future of our Club.

I will have some important things to report to our board of Directors and I urge you to continue to send each upcoming President and Executive Director to this conference – it is a very important learning experience and connects us to an important segment of the Rotary world.

Helen Reisler, President-elect.

REPORTER OF THE WEEK

Rotary Scholars Day (Tuesday, April 3, 2001)

President Serge opened the meeting by paying tribute to Dr. Camilo Uy whose medical knowledge was key to helping Serge's recovery after surgery. Lou Dipaolo led us in singing the National Anthem, and Clarence Plummer offered some philosophical insights during the invocation.

Mort Eydenberg read a letter from US Representative Charles Rangel commending the Club for its support of the electronic learning center at Taller Borica. Bill Currie presented a plaque from the Gift of Life Inc. that honors the NYRC as Rotarians of the Month. Serge revealed that Bill was individually recognized by Gift of Life as well.

Arcadio Casillas plugged the upcoming NY Rotary Foundation fundraiser, and he congratulated Leo Fromm for the $3,000 he had already donated. Jim Bryan canvassed the membership regarding interest for the annual golf / tennis outing, which will be in the summer or fall. Tina Wolf encouraged the membership to continue its efforts to introduce potential new members.

Helen Reisler reported on a conference she attended in Wisconsin for new presidents in Eastern Large Rotary Clubs, and commended Andreas Runggatscher on his participation. Mats Ingemanson introduced the six foreign and three US visiting Rotarians. One of the visiting Rotarians, Lucian Orasel, spoke about the lack of a democratic political process in his country and his past and future efforts to remedy that as a pro-western candidate for the presidency of Romania. He asked for moral and financial support.

Ann Creo introduced the Rotary Scholars that our Club has hosted this past year. Each scholar spoke for several minutes. Congratulations and best wishes to Filippo Amato, Christine Theuma, Stefan Roschert, Davika Hovell, Jorge Muniz, Lana Jenkins, Koji Uriu, and Masayuki Tsuji. They are all surely an impressive group of young adults. Additionally, Jennifer Sieg, who just completed her Rotary Scholarship in Australia, related her experiences as an American abroad and how it has positively influenced her future career direction. Rotarian - Taylor Gray

ROTARACT NEWS

St. Mary's College in St. Lucia was founded in 1890 by Fr. Louis Tapon, a Catholic priest, with 27 students. The College has since grown twenty-four fold with a current student body of 650 males, aged eleven to seventeen. Until the mid 1970's St. Mary's College was one of only two schools that provided secondary education in St. Lucia. The college has always attracted the island's most able students, a vast number of whom have achieved international recognition in their respective fields of study. Principal among these accolades are two Nobel Laureates, Sir Arthur Lewis (Economics, 1979) and the Honorable Derek Walcott (Literature, 1992), the former Prime Minister of St. Lucia, and St. Lucia's former Ambassador to the United Nations.

The regional and international successes of Samaritans continues to be a source of inspiration for current students who strive to overcome the present limitations of the College which arises principally from poor facilities (a direct result of paucity of funds). With the establishment of eight new secondary schools on the island within the past 10 years, St. Mary's College no longer receives as much government funding as it once did. Though the government of St. Lucia recognizes the importance of education to the nation, funding, particularly in the areas of information technology, remains a serious economic challenge. It is in this regard that it was endeavored to establish a leading information technology program at the College, with support from Lucent Technologies, the Canadian government, St. Clair College, and local companies in St. Lucia. In October 2000, we opened the school's first computer lab to its students.

As part of the ongoing project, it is planned to replace the used equipment donated to the lab, as well as establish a Language Laboratory (primarily for French and Spanish studies) in the near future.

Since Children-At-Risk is one main focus of the current Rotary year, the Rotaract Club at the United Nations has decided to support this effort.

To raise some funds, we are planning a major garage sale for May 5, 2001. District Governor Janet DiBenedetto suggested that we get all clubs in the district involved. We therefore would like to ask each and every Rotary, Rotaract and Interact Club for its support to help us raise $5,000 through the garage sale and donations.

Are you interested in helping, for example by organizing a local drop-off site for collected items or simply collecting items that we can sell? Then contact DG Janet DiBenedetto or Susanne Wetzel, the president of the Rotaract Club at the United Nations (Phone: 908-286-0992, Email: swetzel@acm.org).

GIFT OF LIFE

This has been a good week for our Gift of Life children and we are grateful for the recovery and health of all these young people and, of course, for your support. Here is the latest information I have on the Rotary Club of New York's Gift of Life children.

Tarique Stevens - is now back at Ronald McDonald House (73 Street just east of First Avenue). You can visit this delightful child, just call ahead direct to his room at 639-0403

Victoria Nikuschkina - Victoria and mother Inna should be going home soon as all reports from the doctors look good. If you can, visit them at Ronald McDonald House and wish them well before they return to Moscow.

Jovan Pejic - what a delight this child has been along with the group from the former Yugoslavia that helped bring Jovan to this country. Jovan returned home this past week and is a healthy 5-year-old thanks to the Gift of Life.

Tatiana Poruchnik - Tatiana and mother Ludmila continue to stay at Ronald McDonald House and progress has been made on her treatment.

Stephen Budhan - ten-year-old from Guyana is set to arrive on April 14th. He is staying at Ronald McDonald House with his father and the heart surgery will be at NY Hospital.

Monday night, our Club was honored as Rotarians of the Month by the Gift of Life at their monthly meeting on Long Island. Phyllis Arnold and I were there and gratefully accepted this honor on the RCNY's behalf. We have had many children stay in NYC for these life-saving operations and I am very proud of my involvement in this program and I hope you are as well.

WE HAVE MADE A DIFFERENCE, SO KEEP UP YOUR VISITS AND YOUR COMMITMENT TO THE CHILDREN; IT IS THE GIFT OF LIFE.

Yours in Rotary, Bill Currie
